

BRISTOL July saw the welcome return of Isao Nakagawa (4-dan) from Nagasaki who was in this country for almost one month. During his stay he attended the club on three occasions playing simultaneous games with club members and invited members to visit his Hotel day or night to play during his stay in Bristol.

Another overseas visitor during the same period was Les Heuser from Denmark, who managed a very hurried one day visit from London.

A party of Bristol members attended the inaugural meeting of the Weston-Super-Mare Go Club to instruct, play, and advise. (See news from Weston club for more details). Since this first meeting, Trevor Schofield, the founder of the Weston Club, has been visiting the Bristol club every week bringing with him potential new players.

The R.A.F.A. Go Challenge Trophy has reached the final round where Peter Langley meets Roger Hays in what should be an interesting battle between these two long-standing Go rivals. The winner receives the trophy to hold for one year and an engraved drinking tankard to keep.
