"Go Magic" app & Welsh Open tournament prizes

Helen and I, the organisers and Tournament Directors of the 2022 Welsh Open, are pleased to announce what we think is very good news, for contestants at the annual Barmouth Tournament, being held shortly - 25+26 June. Following a great initiative by Dylan Carter, from Cardiff Go club, we've had a generous offer from "Go Magic". They will supply nearly all contestants with great discounts on their Go-learning software. In fact there are 2 main prizes up for grabs, offering free Go Magic membership. The 2 main prizes are for winning all 6 rounds, or winning 5 out of 6. Helen and I aim to provide modest additional prizes, for anybody winning 4.5 or more games, or 3/3 wins for somebody playing only 1 day.

A MODERN WAY TO STUDY GO

A bit about Go Magic (stylised as) & their web site <https://gomagic.org/> ...
Go Magic is "A Modern Platform for Learning Go - Everything you need to up your game".

They supply online lessons, courses, quizzes and more - some free - to help Go players learn or improve at Go. Do please take a glance at their web site!

I've been impressed by several pages that show their concepts and a couple of other pages that caught my eye include:

- <https://gomagic.org/about/> - shows the team behind the project, and their ethos.
- <https://gomagic.org/premium/> - shows costs of membership, starting at $22 for 3 months.

Wow, this keeps getting better, for players at the Barmouth tournament this w/e. We've now heard, from the BGA secretary, that at Barmouth all contestants will receive a 2nd free prize. It's a deal the BGA have negotiated with the sponsor - <https://ai-sensei.com/> I'd recommend that any Go-player tries out AI Sensei, even in advance of this w/e, as it's a way to have AI tools show you how good your moves in a game are, and it's FREE to use their basic facilities, to show you how their system works. Full facilities need a paid membership, and players at Barmouth will get a code, giving them 7 days' full membership - a free trial of all the facilities, if you like. And so, of course it makes sense not to redeem you free 7 days, until you've sampled the basic concepts for free anyway. The company is founded by the German champion Benjamin Teuber (6-dan), and given a recommendation too from Artem Kachanovskyi, EGF Professional 2-dan, both of whom I've been privileged to meet.
-----

Please address any tournament issues to Helen or me. Having said that, Dylan adds that though unlikely, if there are any queries (or feedback) with regards to the Go Magic parts - or anything else for that matter - please contact him, as he's concentrating on the participant experience for the Welsh Open this year.

Looking forward to seeing everybody at Barmouth,
Martin and Helen Harvey
